

National Institute of Business Management (NIBM)

Web Applications Development

Assignment 01

Objective: Create a two-page website using HTML to replicate the content provided in the attached Word document. The assignment aims to assess your understanding of HTML elements, formatting, linking, and basic web page structure.

Instructions:

1. Download the Document:
 - Download the Word document attached to this assignment. It contains the content for two pages: Home and History.
2. Folder Structure
 - Create a folder on your computer to store all the files for your website.
3. Page Structure:
 - Create three HTML pages corresponding to the Home and History sections. Save them as index.html, history.html, and registration.html, respectively.
4. Content Replication:
 - Replicate the content from each section of the Word document to the corresponding HTML page.
 - Pay attention to text formatting, paragraphs, images, lists, and any other elements used in the Word document.
5. Navigation and Links:
 - Implement navigation between pages using hyperlinks.
 - The navigation bar should include links to the Home, and History, pages.
 - Link the "Home," "History" text to the respective pages.
 - Add social media icons and link them to relevant websites.
6. Image and Content Usage:
 - Download images and contents from the provided Wikipedia link: <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/University> .
 - You can use different images if you prefer, but they should be relevant to the content.
7. File Organization:
 - Organize your project files into a folder.
 - Compress the folder into a ZIP file. .
8. Submission:
 - Upload the ZIP file containing all HTML and image files to the LMS.

Note: Plagiarism will not be tolerated. Ensure that you understand and apply the concepts learned during the HTML lesson.

See next pages →

UNIVERSITY

A university (from Latin universitas 'a whole') is an institution of higher (or tertiary) education and research which awards academic degrees in several academic disciplines.[1] University is derived from the Latin phrase universitas magistrorum et scholarium, which roughly means "community of teachers and scholars".[2] Universities typically offer both undergraduate and postgraduate programs.

The original Latin word universitas refers in general to "a number of persons associated into one body, a society, company, community, guild, corporation, etc".[13] As urban town life and medieval guilds developed, specialized associations of students and teachers with collective legal rights (these rights were usually guaranteed by charters issued by princes, prelates, or their towns) became denominated by this general term. Like other guilds, they were self-regulating and determined the qualifications of their members.

HISTORY

- 1. Overview
- 2. Higher education
- 3. Further education
- 4. Secondary education
- 5. Other
- 6. College by country
 - a. Americas
 - b. Asia
 - c. Africa
 - d. Europe
- 7. See also
 - Community college
 - Residential college
 - University college
 - Vocational university
 - Madrasa
 - Ashrama (stage)

Name	Country	Code
Cambridge	UK	01
Oxford		02
Victoria		03